YOU'RE NOT ALONE

At UPMC, we have helped thousands of patients and families through the transplant journey. Our dedicated clinicians and staff provide guidance and support every step of the way.

To ensure our families stay well-informed, UPMC extends to you our Transplant Guardian Angels program, designed to enhance communication and provide support during the transplant surgical process.

UPMC Transplant Guardian Angels assist transplant patients and their families during the transplant hospital admission by providing personal, non-medical care to the patient and support to his or her family while their loved one is in surgery. Our Transplant Guardian Angels are a dedicated team of providers offering assistance to you and your family. They are your health advocates and your family's resource for information and support.

Your Transplant Guardian Angel will:

- Serve as a health advocate
- Provide logistical information regarding UPMC and the Oakland and greater Pittsburgh community
- Guide you and your family through the hospital registration process
- Accompany you while navigating through the hospital
- Assist in getting you into your room or preoperative holding area
- Serve as a point of contact for your family during the transplant surgery
- Communicate and interact with the hospital's multidisciplinary team
- Provide information about Transplant Recipients International Organization (TRIO)
- Provide companionship

In addition to the Transplant Guardian Angels, UPMC Transplantation Services offers various support services to patients and their families, including:

Accommodations

For housing information, please call Family House at 412-647-7777 or visit www.familyhouse.org.

Clinical Support Services

Our transplant social workers are specially trained in the unique financial, educational, and support needs of our transplant patients. They connect you and your family with resources and information about housing, finances, community and support services, and vocational rehabilitation. They also will assist you and your family with discharge planning by referring you to needed services and resources.

Before, during, and after your hospital stay, a social worker is available to provide educational information and individual, family, or group counseling.
